A peculiar connection existed between the affair and the recent memorial exercises at Mount Vernon, commemorating the 160th anniversary of General Washington's death. The feature of the banquet was a grand service of English game, sent by the Earl of Londerborough, Past Grand Master of England, from East Yorkshire, near the ancestral home of the illustrious Washington family. The Earl, who has expressed himself as an ardent admirer of the great American, shipped the hamper of English game shortly after the centennial observance.

One day the famous Gordon was having luncheon with Lady Ripon in Carlton gardens. Lord Cowper was there, and on Gordon's departure he asked who that little man was, and was much disappointed an hearing that it was Gordon, with whom he had not had any conversation. He told his brother Henry of this, who determined he would not lose such an oppountty, so went next day to luncheon with the Ripons, and hung on the lips of a man that was there. After luncheon he said how glad he had been to have met Gordon: "Oh, no," said Lady Ripon, "that is the doctor who is going out to India with us."

NEW YORK DRY-GOODS MARKET.

NEW YORK, December 29.—The market has been without new feature to-day.

Buyors are doing no more than is necessary to carry them along, and there is no pressure on the part of the sellers in either staple or fancy lines in cotton or woollen goods. Print-cloths inactive for regulars, but with rather more demand for odds at previous prices. Linens still scarce and strong. Burlaps quiet but firm in price, with limited supplies.
